

Meeting Room Policy

The Wynnewood Public Library provides meeting room space for the community to groups associated with educational, cultural, intellectual, civic, or charitable activities. It is the library's policy that meetings must not be restricted to any particular group or individual because of race, religion, color, national origin, marital status, familial status, age, sexual orientation, or disability. Sales pitches or any for-profit meeting will not be allowed. Permission to use the meeting room does not include other areas or equipment in the library, unless express permission is granted from the director. Groups using library meeting room space must avoid advertising and publicity which imply their programs are sponsored, co-sponsored or approved by the library, unless written permission to do so has been previously given by the Library Director. Use of the meeting room must be scheduled in advance, with library-sponsored/City of Wynnewood programs receiving first preference. Meetings scheduled after library hours must have permission of the Library Director. The library does not assume liability for injuries to individuals or damages to personal property which occur as a result of actions of the participants in activities in the library's meeting room. Participants are expected to fully comply with applicable provisions of law. The person(s) reserving the meeting room will be held responsible for any expense the library incurs as a result of a group or individual's damage of the room or any equipment in the meeting room. If permission for use of the meeting room is denied, the applicant may appeal to the County Library Director; if that officer further denies permission and the applicant is dissatisfied with the reasons offered, an appeal may be made to the Library Board.
